Decoration Description - Artwork Requirements

Pad Printing:

Pad printing is a printing process that can transfer a 2-D images onto a 3-D object. This is accomplished using an indirect offset printing process that involves an image being transferred from the printing via a silicone pad onto a substrate. Pad printing is used for printing on otherwise impossible products in many industries including medical, automotive, promotional, apparel, electronics, appliances, sports equipment and toys.

- PDF, EPS or AI file

- No more than 2 colours
- Artwork must be supplied to size within product max decoration area
- When printing light colours onto dark background, a white print may have to be applied before printing designated PMS colour

Laser Engraving:

Laser Engraving is the practice of using lasers to engrave or mark an object. The technique does not involve tool bits which contact the engraving surface and wear out. This is considered an advantage over alternative engraving technologies where bit heads have to be replaced regularly.

- PDF EPS or AI file
- All fonts converted to outlines
- All logos & fonts in black
- All artwork to be supplied at correct size
- No half tones or vignettes

Sublimation:

A dye-sublimation printer (or dye-sub printer) is a computer printer which employs a printing process that uses heat to transfer dye onto medium materials such as a plastic card, paper, or fabric. The sublimation name is applied because the dye transitions between the solid and gas states without going through a liquid stage.

- PDF, EPS or AI
- All colours to be converted to CMYK
- Some colour differences may occur, if colour is critical please ask us for a sample print first (Extra cost)

Digital Printing:

Modern printing methods such as laser and ink-Jet printing are known as digital printing, an images is sent directly to the printer using digital files such as PDFs and those from graphics software such as Illustrator and InDesign. This eliminates the need for a printing plate, which is used in offset printing, which can save money and time. Without the need to create a plate, digital printing has brought about fast turnaround times and printing on demand. Instead of having to print large, pre-determined runs, requests can be made for as little as one print.

- PDF, EPS or AI file
- All fonts converted to outlines
- All colours must be setup as CMYK
- Artwork must be supplied to size within product max decoration area

Embroidery is the term given to creating a decoration with stitching. Modern embroidery machines can accurately reproduce logos with good detail. An embroidered logo will not fade or crack meaning the decoration will last the life of the garment.

- PDF, EPS, AI or JPEG
- All fonts converted to outlines
- No more than 6 colours in the logo
- Standard embroidery is 100mm x 100mm & No more than 6000 stitches.

Screen Printing:

Screen printing is a printing technique that uses a woven mesh to support an ink-blocking stencil. The attached stencil forms open areas of mesh that transfer ink or other printable materials which can be pressed through the mesh as a sharp-edged image onto a substrate. A squeegee is moved across the screen stencil, forcing or pumping ink through the threads of the woven mesh in the open areas.
